

Expand your possibilities

a[®]dec

Find your unique style.

Every practice has a personality; and the look and feel of your space speaks volumes about yours. What mood do you want to create? A-dec Inspire® furniture makes the possibilities as unlimited as your imagination, with a beautiful range of colors, patterns and textures.

Our two A-dec Inspire lines are designed for seamless mix-and-match capability, with a shared color palette that makes it easy.

We invite you to use the room designs and color palettes on the following pages as a starting point to help you visualize your own space—and inspire you to create something that's all your own.

Plan like a professional.

There's more to successful design planning than simply choosing cabinets and colors. These practical considerations will help you achieve optimal results:

- 1. Design your working environment first. Look for equipment that minimizes physical movement and reduces body strain so that you—and your staff—can stay healthy, comfortable and practice longer. And remember to budget for tools and equipment along with your operatory furniture.
- 2. Plan for ample sterilization. When materials flow smoothly, so does your stream of patients. Sterilization furniture with well-designed instrument processing and proper storage ensures efficient workflow, eliminates backtracking, and shows patients that you're serious about safety.
- 3. Keep it simple. Consistency creates efficiency, so keep your operatory layouts the same. Having sinks, equipment and storage in the same place across treatment rooms reduces training time and produces a more streamlined workflow.
- 4. Look at total value. Does the purchase price include functional items such as sinks, faucets, power outlets and installation? Consider the total cost of product ownership throughout its life in your practice. Investing in durable, high quality furniture made specifically for the dental environment pays off in the long run.

Beauty is just the beginning.

It's not enough for your practice to look beautiful. A-dec believes it should function beautifully, too. You'll see it in designs that help you treat patients more efficiently. And feel it in details that enable everyone to work more comfortably.

That's why A-dec has been honored with multiple Townie Awards for dental furniture—every consecutive year since 2003.

Doctors have chosen A-dec as best in class across multiple product categories since 2003.

See why more dentists choose A-dec.

A-dec has been partnering with doctors for nearly 60 years to produce reliable, creative dental solutions. A recent independent survey asked dentists what they thought about chair/delivery system manufacturers—and the results confirm why more of them choose A-dec.

Dream in 3D.

The “Dream in 3D” tool offers a new way to visually build your A-dec operatory—in 3D. Experiment with colors including chair and stool upholstery, cabinet laminates and infills, countertops, and wall and floor. Then rotate, zoom, and pan to view the operatory from different perspectives. You can even order samples to make sure you love your selections.
